45 Estimated assessments

(1) In every case in which any taxpayer makes default in furnishing any return or information, or in which the Commissioner is not satisfied with the return or information furnished by any taxpayer, or, notwithstanding that a taxpayer may not have been called upon to furnish a return of income under this Act, in which the Commissioner has reason to believe that such taxpayer is about to leave Zimbabwe the Commissioner may make an assessment in which the taxpayer's taxable income or assessed loss is estimated either in whole or in part and thereupon shall give notice thereof to the taxpayer to be charged, and such taxpayer shall be liable to pay the tax upon the same if any tax is chargeable.

(2) If it appears to the Commissioner that any person is unable from any cause to furnish an accurate return of his income the Commissioner may agree with such person what shall be the amount of his taxable income or assessed loss. Any amount of taxable income or assessed loss so agreed shall not be subject to any objection and appeal:

Provided that if subsequently the Commissioner is of the opinion that the taxpayer, at the time the amount of his taxable income or assessed loss was agreed, withheld information which, had it been known to the Commissioner, would have resulted in his not agreeing to that amount, the Commissioner may, subject to section forty-seven, increase such agreed amount of taxable income or decrease such agreed amount of assessed loss in such manner as he may consider to be appropriate.

46 Additional tax in event of default or omission

(1) A taxpayer shall be required to pay, in addition to the tax chargeable in respect of his taxable income—
(a) if he makes default in rendering a return in respect of any year of assessment—

- (i) an amount of tax equal to the tax chargeable in respect of his taxable income for that year of assessment; or
 - (ii) an amount equal to the maximum fine prescribed in subsection (1) of section eighty-one for the offence of failing to submit a return;
- whichever is the greater;

[Paragraph amended by Act 29 of 1998]

(c) if he makes any incorrect statement in any return rendered by him which results or would, if accepted, result in the calculation of the tax at an amount which is less than the tax properly chargeable, an amount of tax equal to the difference between the tax as calculated in accordance with the return made by him and the tax properly chargeable if the incorrect statement had not been made;

(d) if he fails to disclose in any return made by him any facts which should be disclosed and the failure to disclose such facts results in the calculation of the tax at an amount which is less than the tax properly chargeable, an amount of tax equal to the difference between the tax as calculated in accordance with the return made by him and the tax properly chargeable if the disclosure had been made;

(e) if he makes any statement which results or would, if accepted, result in the granting of a credit exceeding the credit to which he is entitled, an amount equal to the difference between the tax with which he was chargeable as a result of his statement or would have been chargeable as a result of his statement had it been accepted and the tax with which he is properly chargeable;

(f) if he or she fails to disclose in any return made by him or her any particulars as prescribed in terms of section 37(5) or (9) by the Commissioner, and the failure to disclose such particulars results in the calculation of the tax at an amount which is less than the tax properly chargeable, an amount of tax equal to the difference between the tax as calculated in accordance with the return made by him or her and the tax properly chargeable if the disclosure had been made;

[Paragraph inserted by Act 8 of 2011]

(1a) Where a taxpayer, having previously been required to pay any additional tax in terms of subsection (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) of subsection (1), makes any default or omission or does any act or thing that would again render him or her liable for payment of additional tax in terms of the same or a different paragraph of that subsection, he or she shall be required, in addition to the tax chargeable in respect of his or her taxable income, to pay an amount of tax equal to twice the amount payable in terms of subsection (1)(a), (b), (c), (d), (e) or (f) as the case may be.

[Subsection inserted by Act 10 of 2003 and amended by Act 8 of 2011]

(2) The additional amounts for which provision is made under this section shall be chargeable in cases where the taxable income or any part thereof is estimated by the Commissioner in terms of subsection (1) of section forty-five or agreed with the taxpayer in terms of subsection (2) of that section as well as in cases where such taxable income or any part thereof is determined from the return rendered by the taxpayer.

[Subsection amended by Act 29 of 1998]

(3) The powers conferred upon the Commissioner by this section shall be in addition to any right conferred upon him by this Act to take proceedings for the recovery of any penalties for evading or avoiding assessment or the payment of tax or attempting to do so.

(4) Any taxpayer who, in determining his taxable income as disclosed by his return, deducts any amount the deduction of which is not permissible under the provisions of this Act, or shows as an expenditure or loss any amount which he has not in fact expended or lost, shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have omitted such amount from his return.

(5) If, in any year of assessment in which the determination of the taxable income of the taxpayer does not result in an assessed loss, he is entitled to deduct a balance of assessed loss from a previous year of assessment and such balance is less than it would have been had it been calculated on the basis of the returns rendered by him, he shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have omitted from his return for the first mentioned year of assessment an amount equal to the difference between the amount at which such balance is finally determined and the amount at which it would have been determined on the said basis.

(6) If the Commissioner considers that the default in rendering the return was not due to any intent either to defraud the revenue or to postpone the payment by the taxpayer of the tax as chargeable, or that any such omission, incorrect statement or failure to disclose facts was not due to any intent to evade tax on the part of the taxpayer, he may remit such part or all of the said additional amount for which provision is made under this section as he may think fit.

[Subsection amended by Act 29 of 1998]

(7) Notwithstanding subsection (6), the Commissioner may, either before or after an assessment is issued, agree with the taxpayer on the additional amount to be charged and the amount so agreed shall not be subject to any objection and appeal:

Provided that if subsequently the Commissioner is of the opinion that the taxpayer, at the time the additional amount was agreed, withheld information which, had it been known to the Commissioner, would have resulted in his not agreeing to that amount, the Commissioner may, subject to section forty-seven, increase such agreed amount of additional tax in such manner as he may consider to be appropriate.

[Subsection amended by Act 29 of 1998]

47 Additional assessments

- (ii) an amount has been allowed as a deduction from income which should not have been allowed; or

- (c) any sum granted by way of a credit should not have been granted;

he shall adjust such assessment so as to charge to tax such amount of taxable income or to reduce such assessed loss or to withdraw or vary such credit, and if any tax is due either additionally, or alternatively, call upon the taxpayer to pay the correct amount of tax:

Provided that—

- (i) no such adjustments or call upon the taxpayer shall be made if the assessment was made in accordance with the practice generally prevailing at the time the assessment was made;

- (ii) subject to proviso (i), no such adjustment or call upon the taxpayer shall be made after six years from the end of the relevant year of assessment, unless the Commissioner is satisfied that the adjustment or call is necessary as a result of fraud, misrepresentation or wilful non-disclosure of facts, in which case the adjustment or call may be made at any time thereafter;

- (iii) the powers conferred by this subsection shall not be construed so as to permit the Commissioner to vary any decision made by him in terms of subsection (4) of section sixty-two.

(2) Sections forty-five and forty-six shall apply to any assessments or additional assessments or to a call for the payment of any additional sum in respect of a credit made by the Commissioner under the powers conferred by subsection (1).

48 Reduced assessments and refunds

(1) If it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that any person has been charged with tax in excess of the amount properly chargeable under this Act, the Commissioner shall issue an amended assessment reducing the tax so charged and, if necessary, authorize a refund to such person of any tax overpaid:

Provided that—

- (i) any such amended assessment issued by the Commissioner shall not be subject to any objection and appeal;
- (ii) any tax payable in accordance with the practice generally prevailing and accepted by such person at the time when any assessment was made shall be deemed to have been properly so chargeable;
- (iii) the Commissioner shall not authorize any reduction or refund under this subsection unless the claim thereof is made within six years after the date of the notice of assessment in question.

(2) In the case of a claim made in respect of any additional tax charged in terms of section forty-seven, such claim shall be restricted to such additional tax.

(3) The Commissioner shall pay interest, calculated at a rate to be fixed by the Minister by statutory instrument, on any amount of tax overpaid that is not refunded by him or her within sixty days of the date when the taxpayer claimed the refund or the date of completion of the assessment, whichever is the later date, unless the overpayment was due to an incomplete or defective return or other error on the part of the taxpayer, and not to an error on the part of the Commissioner.

[Subsection inserted by Act 18 of 2004]

49 Amended assessments of loss

If it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the assessed loss determined in favour of any person for any year of assessment is less than the amount which should have been determined for that year of assessment under this Act, the Commissioner shall issue an amended assessment increasing such assessed loss:

Provided that—

- (i) any such amended assessment issued by the Commissioner shall not be subject to any objection and appeal;
- (ii) a determination of assessed loss made in accordance with the practice generally prevailing and accepted by such person at the time when any assessment was made shall be deemed to have been properly determined;

(1) The tax with which a person is chargeable in pursuance of an assessment which is made in respect of a year or period of assessment before the date of commencement of the charging Act relating to that year or period shall be calculated as if the last enacted charging Act were the charging Act relating to that year or period.

(2) After the date of commencement of the charging Act relating to a year or period of assessment, the Commissioner shall adjust the tax with which a person is charged or the tax paid by a person in pursuance of an assessment referred to in subsection (1) if an adjustment is required by reason of the making of provision in that Act which is different from that made in the charging Act by reference to the provisions of which the tax so charged or paid was calculated.

(3) On an adjustment made in terms of subsection (2), any amount over or short paid shall be refundable to or recoverable from the taxpayer.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (2), the Commissioner shall not make an adjustment such as is referred to in that subsection if the Commissioner is of the opinion that an adjustment would be impracticable or cause undue delay in winding up the affairs of a trust.

51 Assessments and recording thereof

(2) Notice of assessment and of the amount of tax payable, where tax is payable, shall be given to the taxpayer assessed.

the Commissioner may, by notice in writing, require such person to pay the amount for which he or she has admitted liability or the amount specified, as the case may be, on a date specified, for transmission to the competent authority in such other country.

(3) If such person fails to comply with the notice under section (2) the amount in question may be recovered, for transmission to such competent authority, as if it were a tax payable by such person under this Act.

(4) No steps taken in assistance in collection by any other country under any arrangements referred to subsection (1), for the collection of an amount alleged to be due by any person under the tax laws of Zimbabwe, and no judgment given against any such person in pursuance of such arrangements in such other country for any such amount, shall affect his or her right to have his or her liability for any such amount determined in Zimbabwe in accordance with Part VII of this Act or any other relevant law.

(5) If a person to whom this section is applied lodges an objection with the Commissioner in accordance with Part VII of this Act, section 25 (“Foreign law”) of the Civil Evidence Act [Chapter 8:01] shall apply to the consideration by the Commissioner of any issue as to the tax or other laws of any foreign country or territory concerned as if the Commissioner were a court.

(6) For the avoidance of doubt, it is declared that section 25 (“Foreign law”) of the Civil Evidence Act [Chapter 8:01] applies to the consideration by the Special Court or any other court of any issue as to the tax or other laws of any foreign country or territory that may arise from the application of this section.

98 Tax avoidance generally

Where any transaction, operation or scheme (including a transaction, operation or scheme involving the alienation of property) has been entered into or carried out, which has the effect of avoiding or postponing liability for any tax or of reducing the amount of such liability, and which in the opinion of the Commissioner, having regard to the circumstances under which the transaction, operation or scheme was entered into or carried out—

(2) Any amount of income that would have accrued to either of the associated persons in a controlled transaction and been taxable in Zimbabwe, shall, in the absence of the arm's length principle in that transaction which resulted in the avoidance, reduction or postponement of the liability to tax of either or both of them for any year of assessment, be included in the taxable income of either or both of them and be liable to be taxed accordingly.

(2a) In addition, where the Commissioner amends an assessment by virtue of subsection (2), the taxpayer or taxpayers concerned shall be liable—

1 Interpretation

In this Schedule—

“comparable transaction” means a transaction that is comparable by reference to paragraph 3;

“uncontrolled transaction” means any transaction between independent persons;

2 Arm’s length principle

The determination of whether the conditions of a controlled transaction are consistent with the arm’s length principle for the purposes of section 98B shall be made by the Commissioner-General in accordance with this Schedule.

3 Comparability

(1) An uncontrolled transaction is comparable to a controlled transaction within the meaning of section 98B(1) —

(a) when there are no differences between them that could materially affect the financial indicator being examined under the appropriate transfer pricing method; or

(b) when such differences exist, if a reasonably accurate comparability adjustment is made to the relevant financial indicator of the uncontrolled transaction in order to eliminate the effects of such differences on the comparison.

(2) To determine whether two or more transactions are comparable, the following factors shall be considered to the extent that they are economically relevant to the facts and circumstances of the transactions—

(a) the characteristics of the property or services transferred; and

(b) the functions undertaken by each person with respect to the transactions, taking into account assets used and risks assumed; and

(c) the contractual terms of the transactions; and

(d) the economic circumstances in which the transactions take place; and

(e) the business strategies pursued by each of the associated persons in relation to the transactions.

4 Transfer pricing

(1) The arm’s length remuneration of a controlled transaction shall be determined by applying the most appropriate transfer pricing method to the circumstances of the case.

(2) The most appropriate transfer pricing method shall be selected from among the approved transfer pricing methods set out in paragraph 5(5), taking into consideration the following criteria—

(a) the respective strengths and weaknesses of the approved methods; and

(b) the appropriateness of an approved method in view of the nature of the controlled transaction, determined in particular through an analysis of the functions undertaken by each person in the controlled transaction, taking into account assets used and risks assumed; and

(c) the availability of reliable information needed to apply the selected transfer pricing method or other methods; and

(d) the degree of comparability between the controlled and uncontrolled transactions, including the reliability of comparability adjustments, if any, that may be required to eliminate differences between them.

(3) It shall not be necessary to apply more than one method to determine whether the conditions of a given controlled transaction are consistent with the arm’s length principle.

(4) Where a taxpayer has used an approved transfer pricing method and the selection of that method is consistent with this regulation, the examination by the Commissioner of whether the conditions of the taxpayer’s controlled transactions are consistent with the arm’s length principle shall be based on that transfer pricing method applied by the taxpayer.

(5) The following shall be the approved transfer pricing methods for purposes of subparagraph (2)—

(a) the Comparable Uncontrolled Price Method, which is the comparable uncontrolled price method consisting of comparing the price charged for property or services transferred in a controlled transaction to the price charged for property or services transferred in a comparable uncontrolled transaction; and

(b) the Resale Price Method, which is the resale price method consisting of comparing the resale margin that a purchaser of property in a controlled transaction earns from reselling that property in an uncontrolled transaction with the resale margin that is earned in comparable uncontrolled purchase and resale transactions; and

(c) the Cost Plus Method, which is the cost plus method consisting of comparing the mark-up on those costs directly and indirectly incurred in the supply of property or services in a controlled transaction with the mark-up on those costs directly and indirectly incurred in the supply of property or services in a comparable uncontrolled transaction; and

(d) the Transactional Net Margin Method, which is the transactional net margin method consisting of comparing the net profit margin relative to an appropriate base, such as costs, sales or assets, that a person achieves in a controlled transaction with the net profit margin relative to the same base achieved in comparable uncontrolled transactions; and

(e) the Transactional Profit Split Method, which is the transactional profit split method consisting of allocating to each associated person participating in a controlled transaction the portion of common profit (or loss) derived from such transaction that an independent person would expect to earn from engaging in a comparable uncontrolled transaction. When it is possible to determine an arm's length remuneration for some of the functions performed by the associated persons in connection with the transaction using one of the approved methods described in subparagraphs (a) to (d) above, the transactional profit split method shall be applied based on the common residual profit that results once such functions are so remunerated.

(6) Where, taking account of the criteria described in subparagraph (3), a comparable uncontrolled price method described in subparagraph (5)(a) and an approved method described in subparagraph (5)(b) to (e) can be applied with equal reliability, the determination of arm's length conditions shall be made using the comparable uncontrolled price method.

(7) Where, taking account of the criteria described in subparagraph (2), an approved method described in subparagraph (5)(a) to (c) and an approved method described in subparagraph (5)(d) to (e) can be applied with equal reliability, the determination of arm's length conditions shall be made using the method described in subparagraph (5)(a) to (c).

(8) It shall not be necessary to apply more than one method to determine the arm's length remuneration for a given controlled transaction.

(9) A transfer pricing method other than the approved methods contained in subparagraph (5) may be applied where the Commissioner is satisfied that—

(a) none of the approved methods can be reasonably applied to determine arm's length conditions for the controlled transaction; and

(b) such other method yields a result consistent with that which would be achieved by independent persons engaging in comparable uncontrolled transactions under comparable circumstances.

(10) When a method other than the approved methods contained in subparagraph (5) is used it shall establish that the requirements of subparagraph (9) have been satisfied.

(11) When applying a cost plus, resale price or transactional net margin method, provided under subparagraph (5), it shall be necessary to select the party, hereinafter referred to as the "tested party", to the transaction for which a financial indicator, mark-up on costs, gross margin, or net profit indicator, is tested under the applicable transfer pricing method.

(12) The selection of the tested party should be consistent with the functional analysis of the transaction.

(13) Where a taxpayer has used a transfer pricing method to establish the remuneration of its controlled transactions and that transfer pricing method is consistent with the provisions of this paragraph, then the Commissioner's examination of whether the conditions of the taxpayer's controlled transactions are consistent with the arm's length principle shall be based on the transfer pricing method applied by the taxpayer.

5 Evaluation of taxpayer's combined controlled transactions

If a taxpayer carries out, under the same or similar circumstances, two or more controlled transactions that are economically closely linked to one another or that form a continuum such that they cannot reliably be analysed separately, those transactions may be combined to (i) perform the comparability analysis set out in paragraph 3 and (ii) apply the transfer pricing methods set out in paragraph 5.

6 Arm's length range

(1) An arm's length range is a range of relevant financial indicator figures (e.g. prices, margins or profit shares) produced by the application of the most appropriate transfer pricing method as set out in paragraph 4 to a number of uncontrolled transactions, each of which is relatively equally comparable to the controlled transaction based on a comparability analysis conducted in accordance with paragraph 3.

(2) A controlled transaction, or a set of transactions that are combined according to paragraph 5 shall not be subject to an adjustment under section 98B where the relevant financial indicator derived from the controlled transaction or set of transactions and being tested under the appropriate transfer pricing method is within the arm's length range.

(3) Where the relevant financial indicator derived from a controlled transaction, or from a set of transactions that are combined according to paragraph 5, falls outside the arm's length range, the Commissioner may adjust it pursuant to section 98B(1), and any such adjustment shall be to the median in the arm's length range.

(4) For the purposes of subparagraph (3), the median of the arm's length range shall be the 50th percentile of the financial indicator figures derived from the comparable uncontrolled transactions forming the arm's length range. For this purpose, the 50th percentile is the lowest financial indicator figure such that at least 50 percent of the financial indicator figures are at or below the value of that figure. However, if exactly 50 percent of the results are at or below a financial indicator figure, then the 50th percentile is equal to the arithmetic mean of that figure and the next highest figure.

7 Sources of information on comparable uncontrolled transactions

(1) Possible sources of information on comparable uncontrolled transactions that may include—

(a) internal uncontrolled transactions, which are uncontrolled transactions where one of the parties to the controlled transaction is also a party to the uncontrolled transaction; and

(b) external uncontrolled transactions, which are uncontrolled transactions to which neither of the parties to the controlled transaction is a party.

(2) Information concerning a comparable external uncontrolled transaction may not be relied upon by the Commissioner for the purposes of making an adjustment under section 98B if the information concerning the transaction is not available to the taxpayer.

(3) Information concerning a comparable uncontrolled transaction may not be relied upon by the taxpayer for the purposes of demonstrating the consistency a transaction with section 98B if the information on the transaction is not available to the Commissioner.

(4) In the absence of information on uncontrolled transactions from the same geographic market as the controlled transaction, comparable uncontrolled transactions from other geographic markets may be accepted by the Commissioner.

(5) A determination of whether comparables from other geographic markets are reliable has to be made on a case-by-case basis, and by reference to the extent to which they satisfy paragraph 3 of this Schedule.

(6) Taxpayers using such comparables would be expected to assess the expected impact of geographic differences and other factors on the price and profitability.

8 Services between associated enterprises

(1) A service charge between a taxpayer and an associated person shall be considered consistent with the arm's length principle where—

(a) it is charged for a service that is actually rendered; and

(b) the service provides, or when rendered was expected to provide, the recipient with economic or commercial value to enhance its commercial position; and

(c) it is charged for a service that an independent enterprise in comparable circumstances would have been willing to pay for if performed for it by an independent enterprise, or would have performed in-house for itself; and

(d) its amount corresponds to that which would have been agreed between independent enterprises for comparable services in comparable circumstances.

(2) A service charge made to a person shall not be consistent with the arm's length principle where it is made by an associated person solely because of the shareholder's ownership interest in one or more other group members, including for any of the following costs incurred or activities undertaken by such associated person—

(a) costs or activities relating to the juridical structure of the parent company of the first-mentioned person, such as meetings of shareholders of the parent, issuing of shares in the parent company and costs of the parent company's supervisory board; and

(b) costs or activities relating to reporting requirements of the parent company of the first-mentioned person, including the consolidation of reports; and

(c) costs or activities related to raising funds for the acquisition of participations, unless those participations are directly or indirectly acquired by the first-mentioned person and the acquisition benefits or is expected to benefit that first-mentioned person.

(3) Where it is possible to identify specific services provided by a taxpayer to a associated person, the determination whether the service charge is consistent with the arm's length principle shall be made for each specific service, subject to the provisions of subparagraph (4).

(4) Where services are rendered by a taxpayer jointly to various associated persons and it is not possible to identify specific services provided to each of them, the total service charge shall be allocated among the associated persons that benefit or expect to benefit from the services according to reasonable allocation criteria.

(5) For the purpose of this paragraph, allocation criteria shall be viewed as reasonable where they are based on a variable or variables that—

- (a) take into account the nature of the services, the circumstances under which they are provided and the benefits obtained or that were expected to be obtained by the persons for which the services are intended; and
- (b) relate exclusively to uncontrolled, rather than controlled, transactions; and
- (c) are capable of being measured in a reasonably reliable manner.

9 Transactions involving intangible property

(1) The determination of arm's length conditions for controlled transactions involving licences, sales or other transfers of intangible property between associated persons shall take into account both the perspective of the transferor of the property and the perspective of the transferee, including in particular the pricing at which a comparable independent enterprise would be willing to transfer the property and the value and usefulness of the intangible property to the transferee in its business.

(2) In applying the provisions of paragraph 3 to a transaction involving the licence, sale or other transfer of intangible property, consideration shall be given to any special factors relevant to the comparability of the controlled and uncontrolled transactions, including—

- (a) the expected benefits from the intangible property; and
- (b) any geographic limitations on the exercise of rights to the intangible property; and
- (c) the exclusive or non-exclusive character of the rights transferred; and
- (d) whether the transferee has the right to participate in further developments of the intangible property by the transferor.

10 Corresponding adjustments for domestic transactions

(1) The determination of arm's length conditions for controlled transactions involving licences, sales or other transfers of intangible property between associated persons shall take into account both the perspective of the transferor of the property and the perspective of the transferee, including in particular the pricing at which a comparable independent enterprise would be willing to transfer the property and the value and usefulness of the intangible property to the transferee in its business.

(2) In applying the provisions of paragraph 3 to a transaction involving the licence, sale or other transfer of intangible property, consideration shall be given to any special factors relevant to the comparability of the controlled and uncontrolled transactions, including—

- (a) the expected benefits from the intangible property; and
- (b) any geographic limitations on the exercise of rights to the intangible property; and
- (c) the exclusive or non-exclusive character of the rights transferred; and
- (d) whether the transferee has the right to participate in further developments of the intangible property by the transferor.

11 Corresponding adjustments for domestic transactions

Where an adjustment is made by the Commissioner under section 98B to the taxable income of a taxpayer in relation to a domestic transaction, then, the Commissioner shall make an appropriate adjustment to the taxable income of the other party to the transaction.

12 Corresponding adjustments for international transactions

(1) A service charge between a taxpayer and an associated person shall be considered consistent with the arm's length principle where—

- (a) an adjustment to the conditions of transactions between a person resident in Zimbabwe and an associated person is made or proposed by a tax administration in a country other than Zimbabwe; and
- (b) this adjustment results in the taxation in that other country of an amount of income on which the person resident in Zimbabwe has already been charged to tax in Zimbabwe; and
- (c) the country making or proposing the adjustment has a treaty with Zimbabwe that reflects an intention to provide for the relief of economic double taxation.

(2) The Commissioner, shall after a request is made by the person resident in Zimbabwe, examine the consistency of that adjustment with the arm's length principle provided for under section 98B, consulting as necessary with the competent authority of the other country.

(3) If the adjustment proposed or made by the other country is consistent with the arm's length principle both in principle and as regards the amount, the Commissioner shall make a corresponding adjustment to the amount of the tax charged in Zimbabwe to that person on those profits, in order to eliminate the economic double taxation that would result from the inclusion of the same profits in the taxable income of both that person and the associated person.

(4) A request under subparagraph (2) must include the information necessary for the Commissioner to examine the consistency of the adjustment made by the tax administration of the other country with the arm's length principle, including—

- (a) the name, registered address and, where applicable, trading name(s) of the related person; and
- (b) evidence of the tax residence of the related person;
- (c) the year(s) in which the adjusted controlled transaction(s) took place;
- (d) the amount of the requested corresponding adjustment and the amounts of the adjustment made by the tax administration of the other country;
- (e) evidence of the adjustment made by the tax administration of the other country and the basis for the adjustment, including details of comparability analysis relied upon and the transfer pricing method applied;
- (f) confirmation that the related person party will not, or is unable to, pursue any further recourse under the domestic law of the other country that may result in the adjustment made by the tax administration of the other country being reduced or reversed;
- (g) any other information that may be relevant for examining the consistency of the adjustment with the arm's length principle.

(5) The request must be made within the applicable time period for making a request for the case to be resolved by way of mutual agreement procedure under the applicable tax treaty.

THIRTY-SIXTH SCHEDULE (Section 36L)

BOOKMAKERS TAX

[Schedule inserted by Act 1 of 2018]

1 Interpretation

(1) In this Schedule—

“bookmaker” means a person licensed or required to be licensed as such in terms of the Betting and Totalizator Control Act [Chapter 10:02];

“gross takings”, in relation to a bookmaker, means the total money earned by the bookmaker from betting with members of the public before paying out on any bet.

(2) Any term defined in the Betting and Totalizator Control Act [Chapter 10:02] shall bear the same meaning when used in this Schedule.

2 Bookmakers to pay bookmakers tax

(1) Every bookmaker shall pay three per centum of his or her gross takings in every month to the Commissioner-General no later than the last day of the month following the month in which the bookmaker collected those takings, or within such further time as the Commissioner-General may for good cause allow.

(2) Together with the payment of bookmakers tax the bookmaker shall provide the Commissioner-General with a return, in a form approved by the Commissioner-General, showing—

- (a) the amount of the bookmakers tax; and
- (b) the amount of the gross takings from which the tax is paid.

3 Penalty for non-payment of tax

(1) Subject to subparagraph (2), a bookmaker who fails to pay to the Commissioner-General any amount of bookmakers tax as provided in paragraph 2 shall be liable for the payment to the Commissioner-General, not later than the date on which payment should have been made in terms of paragraph 2 of—

- (a) the amount of bookmakers tax which he or she failed to pay to the Commissioner-General; and
- (b) a further amount equal to such bookmakers tax.

(2) The amounts for the payment of which a bookmaker is liable in terms of subparagraph (1)—

- (a) shall be debts due by the principal to the State; and
- (b) may be sued for and recovered by action by the Commissioner-General in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(3) The Commissioner-General, if he or she is satisfied in any particular case that the failure to pay to him or her bookmakers tax was not due to any intent to evade the provisions of this Schedule, may waive the payment of the whole or such part as he or she thinks fit of the amount referred to in subparagraph (1)(b).

4 Refund of overpayments

If it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner-General that any bookmaker has been charged with bookmakers tax in excess of the amount properly chargeable to him or her in terms of this Schedule the Commissioner-General shall authorise a refund in so far as it has been overpaid:

Provided that the Commissioner-General shall not authorise any refund in terms of this paragraph unless the claim therefor is made within six years of the date of payment of such tax.
